HOW IT WORKS

Self-serve coffee to go.

Everything is in one spot: cups and lids beside the machine, drinks on the touch screen, and somewhere to put the rubbish when you are done.

1

Grab a cup

Cups sit ready in the dispenser beside the machine, with lids on top.

2

Choose and brew

Tap one of eight drinks. Fresh beans are ground for every cup.

3

Lid and go

Add sugar, a stirrer and a lid, then drop any waste into the chutes below.

INSIDE THE MACHINE

What it's doing for every cup

Precision grinder. Flat burrs with fine adjustment grind fresh beans for each drink.

Pressure boiler. A 315 ml boiler keeps up with a busy break time.

Fill from the top. Beans and powders load from above, without opening the door.

Measured dosing. The right amount of coffee every time, so cups taste the same.

EcoMode. Saves energy when the machine is not being used.

Sensor protection. Sensors guard the grinder motor for a longer working life.

Why it beats a kettle and a jar of instant

	SPOT STATION	KETTLE AND INSTANT
In the cup	Freshly ground beans, every time	Instant granules
Choice	Eight drinks at a touch, espresso to mocha	Whatever is in the cupboard
To go	Cups, lids and sugars in one place	Hunt for a clean mug
Speed	Up to 108 espressos an hour	Wait for the kettle, one at a time
Tidiness	Waste chutes and a cupboard built in	Wet spoons, spills and milk cartons

WHAT YOU CAN SERVE

Eight favourites, one touch.

Whole beans for proper espresso, plus two powder hoppers for milk and chocolate. Strength, size and milk can be adjusted to taste.

- Cappuccino
- Caffè latte
- Americano
- Espresso
- White coffee
- Flat white
- Cortado
- Mocha
- Hot chocolate
